2016 NJJA CONFERENCE

YOUTH DAY!

SPEAK UP! BE HEARD! JOIN THE ACTION!

What: Bringing together juvenile justice professionals, judges, youth advocates, and current or former system-involved youth to learn together. Attendees will participate in workshops, visit with community resources and hear from keynote speaker Starcia Ague, former juvenile justice youth and national advocate.

When: Thursday, May 19.

Where: University of Nebraska-Kearney Student Union, Kearney, NE.

Who: Up to 30 youth participants with current and former involvement in the juvenile justice system and their support people.

How: Reserve spots for up to 3 youth and one staff from your agency by contacting Sarah Mitchell at mitchellsarah468@gmail.com, or by phone at (402) 860-9093 by April 10.

Expectations: Participants are asked to actively participate in conference sessions and coordinate all travel and supervision plans with the staff person supporting them. Supporting organizations are expected to maintain a 3:1 youth to staff ratio.

Cost: FREE registration with lunch and light refreshments provided. Youth and adults attending beyond the Youth Day will be required to obtain a regular registration at conference rates.
